

Has-A Relationship

By Kunal Sir

Assignments

Question 1: Person and Address

- Create a class named Address that contains attributes for street, city, and zip code. Then, create a class named Person that contains an attribute for personId , personName and create a reference of Secondary Address class.

- Requirements:

In the main method of the Test class, create instances of Address and Person class and set and get the data without Constructor and setter getter.

•

Question 2 : Car and Engine

- Create a class named Engine with attributes for engine type and horsepower. Then, create a class named Car that contains an attribute for carName,carModel,carPrice and create a reference of Secondary Engine class.

- Requirements:

- Include main methods in the Test class and create instances of Car and Engine And to set

Has-A Relationship

By Kunal Sir

and get the details of both Objects without constructor and setter getter.

Question 3 : Company and Employee

- Design a class named Employee with attributes for employee ID, name, and position. Create a class named Company that contains an attribute for companyName , companyLocation, CompanyType and create a reference of Secondary Employee class
- Requirements:
 - Include main methods in the Test class and create instances of Employee and Company And to set and get the details of both Objects and without constructor and setter & getter.

Question 4: Classroom and Student

- Description: Create a class named Student with attributes for name, roll number, and email. Then, create a class named Classroom that contains an attribute for name, capacity and create a reference of Secondary Student class
- Requirements:

Has-A Relationship

By Kunal Sir

- Include main methods in the Test class and create instances of Classroom and Student And to set and get the details of both Objects and without constructor and setter & getter.